TTC Trans-boundary Update

by Dave Keenan

Hi Folks. Now that the lake is open and people are moving about, just a reminder that anyone wishing to build or construct a temporary or permanent structure on TTC Settlement Lands or any land in BC should first contact the Lands & Resources department.

The TTC negotiating team met with the government of Canada and BC negotiators on May 23 to 25, 2018 to continue our review of the Agreement-In-Principle Outline. We will have this review completed by mid-June. Once this is completed, we will have a better understanding of what can be done within the existing government policy framework. Where government has no policy on key issues and those issues are a part of the TTC mandate, both Canada and BC must get a new mandate from their respective cabinets.

While we appreciate the collaborative approach of the government representatives, there has been little progress in developing a joint mandate.

To expedite these negotiations, the Teslin Tlingit Council proposes that it retain the area of the Group Trapline 625T002 as treaty lands under its treaty relating to our rights, titles, claims and interests in the portion of our traditional territory located in British Columbia. This would constitute the core of the TTC's treaty lands under that treaty.

This would mean that our aboriginal rights, titles and interests within this area of retained treaty lands would be retained as aboriginal title "equivalent to fee simple" as contained in the TTC Final Agreement in Yukon. The jurisdiction over these aboriginal title lands would include jurisdiction and ownership of all natural resources on these delineated lands. Further, the TTC exclusive jurisdiction over matters recognized under this treaty, as currently conveyed in the TTC's Final and Self Agreement in Yukon, within TTC's Traditional Territory, as being TTC's exclusive jurisdiction, would be extended into BC. This would include TTC's Lands and Resources Act and the TTC Fish and Wildlife Act. Our views are consistent with our Yukon Final and Self Government model and is consistent with the precepts of common law as conveyed in the Supreme Court of Canada decision in Tsilhqot'in.

The TTC team held a public meeting on May 12th at the long house where we presented the above idea and received support and valuable input.

The next session with governments will be in Teslin on July 17 and 18.

If anyone would like to meet with me please call me at 390-2331, 335-2331 or yesenko7@gmail.com I would be happy to meet with you.

Honouring Spirit: Indigenous Student Awards

The Honouring Spirit: Indigenous Student Awards are intended to recognize First Nations, Métis and Inuit students who model strength and commitment in the pursuit of their personal education path and embrace their own gifts, strengths and potential while celebrating the ways of their people.

Further, the Honouring Spirit: Indigenous Student Awards provide the opportunity to celebrate the unique qualities of students who inspire their peers, teachers, education leaders and community members while respecting the agency of other students to do the same in their own ways.

Formerly known as “Indigenous Shining Student Award”, the program has been enhanced and expanded and continues to be supported through the collaboration of education partners in Alberta. This important re-imagining of the award has been inspired by the ASBA Indigenous Advisory Circle whose leadership, advice and guidance has been invaluable in creating this exciting new awards program.

Award Sponsors

Sponsored by the Alberta School Boards Association (ASBA) in collaboration with the College of Alberta School Superintendents (CASS), Alberta School Councils' Association (ASCA), Alberta Teachers' Association (ATA) and funded this year through grant dollars from Alberta Education

Award Parameters

Honouring Spirit: Indigenous Student Awards will be presented annually to students selected by the Awards Committee. The Committee will consider First Nations, Métis or Inuit student nominees who attend a school in Alberta, either operated by an ASBA member school board or a First Nations school, who have been nominated by members of their education community based on their exemplary leadership, honour, courage and commitment to their own education path. Celebrated attitudes, actions and characteristics of nominees include the following:

- Perseverance in the pursuit of goals and dreams, in school and beyond
- Maintaining strength, self-care and a healthy attitude as they pursue their personal path to education and fulfillment
- Embracing their cultural identity and promoting the strength, beauty and value of their culture and community
- Modelling leadership through a cultural lens that inspires their peers to pursue their own dreams and goals
- Respecting and honouring the autonomy, empowerment and agency of others to self-determine
- Improvement in work ethic, attitude, attendance and interaction with others
- Honesty and honour demonstrated in the student's daily encounters with fellow school community members
- Kindness towards others

Congratulations Ryleigh!

Pleased to inform you that Ryleigh Grant-Turner has been selected as the recipient for the Grades 10-12 age group in the North Region..

Lands and Resources Update

The Lands & Resources Department would like to welcome James McGrath as the term Renewable Resources Coordinator filling in for Gillian over the next year. James grew up in the Yukon, and has now returned after recently graduating from Dalhousie University with a double major BA in Environment, Sustainability & Society and Environmental Science, and with certificates in environmental impact assessment and GIS. He is looking forward to putting his education and enthusiasm in this field to work for TTC and getting to know the community.

Salmon

As we quickly approach the salmon season this summer, there are a number of significant projects and processes that the Lands department continues to make progress on in partnership with executive, youth, elders, and TTRRC representatives.

Salmon Management Planning

The TTC Salmon Management Plan Advisory Group is nearing completion of a draft Plan for public review, with final review scheduled for the TTC AGA in July. A Salmon Open House was hosted in Teslin and Whitehorse in April to share information and seek input from TTC Citizens on a variety of topics including research & restoration, management, and cultural restoration. The input we received was very valuable to the review process, and the Advisory Group would like to thank everyone who attended.

Yukon River Panel

Youth, Elders, Executive, and staff represented TTC's interests through public testimony and strategic meetings with Alaskan Tribal representatives at the Yukon River Panel in Anchorage this spring. In much the same way that Chinook conservation actions in Yukon began with First Nation Citizens in Yukon self-limiting their harvest and calling for further actions from management agencies, the people who rely on salmon along the river in Alaska are working to build their voice in various management discussions and continue to call for conservative management approaches. TTC hopes to build strong cross-border relationships at the community level to support real change in long-term management, and to maintain support for Chinook salmon conservation.

Salmon Projects

A number of TTC salmon projects successfully received funding through the Yukon River Panel this year. This includes the continuation of the Deadman Creek Chinook restoration project. We have had a number of community members tag along during the project activities over the last couple of years, and look forward to hosting more opportunities this summer. We will be beginning a new research project this year that will provide TTC with updated information on the extent of Chinook salmon spawning throughout the traditional territory using radio tag telemetry methods. This information can then be compared to local and traditional knowledge to assess where future monitoring and restoration efforts can be focused within the Teslin watershed. If you have any questions about either of these projects, we would love to talk to you!

We are excited to share that funding was also received to create a Salmon Steward position in the Lands and Resources Department, which we will work to maintain into the future. This position will provide a TTC youth with the opportunity to explore and build skills through participation in a variety of salmon-related technical, communication, and management-type work mentoring under other staff in the department. We hope to build the capacity of the department to carry out salmon work into the future and foster an interest in this field of work in our TTC youth into the future!

2018 preliminary run information

At this point in the season, run information is very uncertain. Pre-season estimates predict a run size similar or smaller than last year. When compared to historic run sizes, this year will mark another below-average run. While run sizes are currently not at the critically low levels that were seen in recent years, the current run sizes are only being maintained by continuing strong conservation in both Alaska and Yukon, and more time is needed to allow for the stock to properly rebuild. TTC also continues to stress the importance of the run quality, which includes considering the ages and sex ratio of returning salmon. Younger fish produce fewer eggs and have higher numbers of males than females. TTC Citizens and many others along the river are to be commended for continuing to recognize the importance of conservation at this time.

Run information will be updated throughout the season as it comes available. If you have any questions, please contact the Lands Department.

Keeping our Wildlife “Wild and Alive”

Summer is here and we must be mindful of wildlife in our community. We share this landscape with a variety of wildlife, and it is our responsibility to manage our attractants and to recognize that we can successfully co-exist with these animals if we do so. There have been numerous bear sightings during the month of May and unfortunately one was able to gain access to household attractants and had to be destroyed. We are also concerned about the foxes in town and would like to ensure that they are not becoming accustomed to accessing food from people, as they are an enjoyable presence near the community but may need to be removed if they become too familiar with people and human foods. Please keep garbage and other attractants indoors or in lockable bear proof bins until garbage day, and only dispose of food in this secure garbage to go to the dump. If you have any questions about managing wildlife attractants, how to bear proof your property or general bear safety we encourage you to contact the Lands department and review the Yukon Bear Attractant Audit checklist. The Lands department also has bear spray available again if you would like to sign out a can for your time on the land this summer.

Throughout the spring and early summer, bears spend much of their time foraging because they use more energy than they get from their food.

A bear's sense of smell is 2000 times better than a human's and 20 times better than a dog. And bears think garbage is tasty.

We want to reduce the number of human/bear conflicts this year and ask that you use this property audit checklist to see if you have anything that will attract a bear to your yard or camp.

When you evaluate your home, yard or camp for bear foods, you must think in terms of what might attract them to you, not necessarily what they can eat.

If you check any boxes in the right hand column, your property is at high risk of attracting a bear.

Let's keep Yukon wildlife Wild & Alive
